Living By The Stream[®] - EPK

Religious Audiences

Blasting through the boundaries of genre Living By The Stream[®] creates a new and unique musical style entirely its own by harnessing the tones of violin, guitar, and vocals into a colorful amalgam of sound imbued with joy and wonder.

Having a broad musical background, the duo twists together hints of Celtic, bluegrass, rock, and pop with shades of jazz, folk, and classical. "Quirky," "thoughtful," "fun," "deep," "joyful," "exciting," and "family-friendly" are just a few of the descriptors that stamp the group. Though many have tried to peg the duo's genre and give it a title, in the end everyone comes to the same conclusion – Living By The Stream[®] is the genre.

Living by the Stream shared a Christmas concert at Highland Avenue Fellowship at our "First Friday" event. Their talent and humility combined to make everyone who attended blessed beyond measure, and definitely helped put us in the Christmas Spirit. We would be honored to have them share their music with us any time they are available. - Pastor Tom Polk, Highland Avenue Fellowship

ABOUT SARAH

When we look across the Bible, we see people called to serve Christ in ways previously unimaginable and perhaps even undesirable. Ways so divergent from the person's original wishes, that only God could have planted it in the heart.

Sarah's first collision with music was just that – a collision. She picked up the violin at age six and put it down at the age of seven. Yet that brief period haunted her with the devotion of Jiminy Cricket, whispering, "You can do better than this." Fast-forward four years, she was studying again with a grand-spanking new violin teacher. Soon, she found herself playing violin and singing on the church worship team, while her Dad taught her the joys of creating her own music.

ABOUT STEVE

Steve's youthful desire was to become a skilled musician like his father. That desire was effectively anchored when he gave his life to Christ and he learned of the musicians noted in Psalm 33:3 of the bible who were charged to play skillfully and of the individuals referred to in 1 Chronicles 25:7 as "trained and skilled in music for the Lord."

Steve's journey with the duo began when both Steve and Sarah were co-members of their church's worship team. Steve served as the worship leader for that worship team and the music Steve and Sarah shared at church functions led to a church member's request that their duo consider playing publicly and so they accepted that request as a ministry opportunity. Since that time, Steve faithfully continues to pursue the duo's mission of creating wonder, joy, and hope with skilled music that brings glory to Christ. Today, looking back over time, Steve marvels that "Living By The Stream" has been a duo for more than a decade.
